“ I met Doug about 7 years ago through a business relationship and almost immediately I considered him a friend. His enthusiasm and his love for life were evident from the moment he shook hands with you.

I just learned of Doug's passing and it is with a heavy heart that I write this note. Doug was truly one of the really good people in this world and he will be truly missed.

To his family and friends..... my deepest sympathy in this most difficult time.

“ It was an honor to get the opportunity to know Doug. We did some business dealings and made a personal connection, which as I see by others comments would be normal for Doug. :)

“ Doug and I grew up together. So many great memories of hanging out at his house on Early St., playing football, cruising the loop listening to ZZ top, delivering beer to Uncle Ernie, double dating, summers on the lake, the list goes on and on. After I moved to Boulder, Doug lived in Ft. Collins for a while and we shared time skiing, hiking, rafting, and having the occasional beer. (See attached photo.)

In recent years, I saw him less often, but when I did he was always upbeat, easy to laugh and smile; always genuinely interested in the latest with my family. A memory I'll always cherish is "the gang" riding the first leg of Ragbrai 2016 together and finishing at Rick Faine's house in Storm Lake. It was like old times. We've all lost a special man, a consummate gentleman, a class act, a great father and a loyal, dear friend. Take it easy now my old pal.

“ Doug was my best friend. We grew up together with our backyards right next to each other. We played football (tackle the guy with the ball) in our backyards. We played hockey (hit each other with the sticks). We rode our mini-bikes together out at little lake. We rode our snowmobiles and played chicken to see who would chicken out first, always me. Had our first kegger together at 16 out at Curt Carlson's place. We sailed together on his sailfish at odd times of the day. We played tennis at the Kinnick courts at 2am in the morning. Basketball in Iowa City after Deadwood closed down. Did some double dating over the years. So many other things. And a lot that I shouldn't put down in print.

Doug was my best man at my first marriage. And fairly recently he rode parts of RAGBRAI with me, Mark Gaffney and Jim Felton.

Saw Doug this summer, I knew there was trouble. But i knew that Doug was a fighter and that he would battle. Cancer sucks.

Doug was always there for me and all his friends. He will be sorely missed and I will cherish all out times together and all the great memories.

Love you Doug

“ Doug and I were born on the same day in the same hospital so it was pretty much a destiny that we would be dear friends through our entire lives. No one is really ready to say good bye to anyone who has meant so much to them for so long. His smile and laugh will stay with us until we meet again. Those who were touched by his life know just how much he enjoyed living and I am sure our Good Lord will now enjoy his presence in heaven. Rest in peace my friend and I'll see Ya when I see Ya my brother. !

“ Doug and I had many an adventure together...great zeal and attitude, loved to laugh...I was there when he got his first little sailboat for Storm Lake, and it sparked his life long love of sailing. We roomed together in college, biked RAGBRAI, played basketball, bragged about our kids, talked about our folks...we were of the same time and place. I know how much he loved life, his work, his family, his employees...may God hold you close Doug.

“ Doug and I spent a lot of time hawking batteries in Wisconsin - quite successfully. We go way back at NCR even before the battery days and I was shocked to hear about his passing. Although I haven't seen him for years, it seems like yesterday we were walking into Kohl's together. I am so sorry for your loss. Doug was one hell of a great guy. Tom Youngell
