“ Some of our fondest memories of Art & Babe were from the annual trip to Lake Okoboji that we called "Our Lost Weekend." We had so many laughs and great times with Utters and Hershbergers joining us. Hersh and Art liked to sing in the shower following the men's round of golf - the songs could get a little rank at times. Sleeping quarters were tight as we drew for who had the 2nd bedroom and who had to sleep out in the living room and kitchen. Art & Babe always got the master bedroom. We ate lots of good food, played golf & cards, and drank either a lot or a little depending upon the circumstances - mostly a lot! At the end of the weekend, Art would write in his diary and record the winners of the big golf game. Not sure who ended up with the traveling trophy. Art & Babe did love their golf - both had a knack for hitting right down the middle of the fairway.

We will miss them but will always cherish the wonderful memories of our longtime friendship.

*Love to the family,
Marge & Bob*
