“ I was so saddened to hear of Brent's passing. Besides being in school together I served with Brent in the IA Army Nat'l Guard. Although we haven't spoken in a number of years Brent remains among the most authentic, good-natured, people I've met. My thoughts to his family and friends at this time.

“ Brent was one of my best high school friends. He and I shared many memories of taking turns shooting pheasants out of the back of his truck to shooting ducks out at Little Lake. I know not the smartest thing. I remember the first time he took me duck hunting he told me not to shoot the ducks off the water. First duck landed on the water who do you think took the first duck, of course Brent. I learned quickly. I also remember the sausage and biscuits Linda would make as soon as we would come home from a good hunt, absolutely wonderful.

I remember Linda his mom dropping us off in Cherokee to spend the weekend at his grandparents. His grandfather worked at the salvage yard and we would spend the day scavenging thru old cars and trucks. What a blast as a young kid.

We spent many a days riding mopeds and it didn't matter if it was winter time or summer time as long as they started we went everywhere.

We spent a lot of time together working at Fareway. It was definitely after the store closed that we had the most fun dumping mop buckets and running and sliding down the aisles to snacking off of the Brach's candy display. I probably should stop in there some time and leave some money.

Brent's cars, oh how I remember them, that was his thing. He went thru more cars in his high school days then Peterson Motors did in a month and I was there for every purchase from the Ford Bronco to the Chevy Apache to the Ford Mustang to the Chevy Camaro he had them all. The day we picked up the Ford Mustang that we called the "Bumble Bee" because of its black and gold I remember. The guy that owned it raced it regularly and when he unpinned and lifted the hood, we saw the chrome, red, black, yellow cranked up engine, Brent and I said in the same breath "SOLD". We proved cars could fly that day.

He was a wonderful friend, wonderful person and although for some reason he and I haven't connected since our high school days I love him as a brother and if I saw him right now it would be as if nothing has changed and that time would roll back. I will miss you my friend and I look forward to seeing you again. My condolences to Linda and to anyone ever impacted by this great person, he will be missed.

“ I wish I could say Brent and I have kept in contact over the years. I wish we've gone fishing and hunting, scooped the loop in his old white Apache truck. All the things we did as young men. Sadly its been over 20 years since we have talked. I knew the young man Brent was, I wish now I knew the man he became. Truly saddened to hear about my old friend, more than then I can express on this page. Please accept my condolences, Linda. He was a Salt of the Earth guy.
