“ I was in the Coast Guard with Chris and he was my roommate in Duluth. I remember when I first started thinking about going to Electronics Technician school, Chris answered every question I had, and he talked me into signing up. When I was in Petaluma for school, Chris was stationed in California and made the drive to the training center many times to pick me up to hang out at his place because he said he knew how bad it was to spend the weekend in the barracks. He was just an all around genuine, good dude, and about as funny as they come. Thank you Chris for all the guidance, your friendship, and all the laughs. Take it easy buddy.
