I was so glad Cory, when you said you were coming to see me after work Easter Sunday. We had supper here together . Then you said, Gramma your strong. Oh, why do you say that Cory He didn't answer and the said again, your strong Gramma. I said I guess I'm not a quitter and always try to do whatever needs to be done. Sometimes the challenges are pretty great but one can never quit. Then when he was ready to leave, he came to where I was sitting, got down on your knees and took me in your arms and just held me for a time , then said I will always love you Gramma.

When your Uncle Doug and your cousin Nate, brought me the bad news of what happened to you, I remembered your words my son. I will be strong Cory I just want to think how happy Grampa must be to finally meet on of his grand children and then to be with your Dad again. Yes my precious one, memories is what I have and beautiful ones. I know if you could speak to me now, you would say, don't be sad Gramma. I'll always love you and everything is good Gramma, everything is good, it's all good and Gramma I'm home.

Cory's father led him to the lord at a young age. He was so happy that he had his dad call his Uncle Doug and Aunt Andy at midnight to tell them the good news.*

Melva Urban - April 27, 2017 at 04:12 PM

“ April 23, 2017 Tribute Grandma Urban wrote to Cory.
Grandma Melva Urban wrote and his Uncle Doug read at Cory's funeral. Followed by his grandmother singing "There is a River."
My dear Cory, who I've loved so much.
I will miss you always. I know many others have a story to tell of their relationship to you because of your God given love for others. But this is mine. I don't see how I can do justice in what I would like to share with others in regards to your life and the man that you became. You said recently that you wanted to make something of yourself, perhaps go into the service and get more education. I told you that it sounded like a good plan. But you already were a wonderful man. I am just sorry you didn't have the opportunity to follow your dreams my son. You however, had the greatest thing any man could possess, God's love and it flowed from your innermost being. God's love is like a fountain that flows from deep within. Like the water that flows in the river that never runs dry. It has no boundaries Cor, and that is the way the Lord used you my dear. The love that you gave to us, will never die even though you're not here with us anymore.
I remember several years ago you asked me if you could move in with me. I said of course and I would be most happy to have you do so.. I didn't hear from you again for a couple weeks . Then you came again and asked if it would be alright. I again said I would be most happy for you to do so. So you went out to your car and started moving things in. I couldn't help but remember a time when you were small and your Dad brought you in for me to baby sit while he took your Mom to an appointment. You didn't want anything to do with Gramma that day . You were angry and cried. I just couldn't get you simmered down. Finally you opened the inside door to the garage and ran out from the porch to the garage. I stood in the doorway thinking that it was alright, no way to get hurt and you could run off a little steam and quit crying. All of a sudden the garage door started going up with you hanging on like a little monkey and going right up with it. I rushed and stopped the door, grabbing you and finally persuaded you into letting go of the bar on the garage door and I was able to gently place your feet on the floor. I took you back into the porch, still bawling and not wanting anything to do with Gramma. So I just let you alone until you layed down on the floor and went to sleep. After a little nap you woke up all happy and good natured as if the incident never happened. Well you moved in and all those months you were with me I wouldn't trade for anything. So many good memories. You worked six days a week most of the time and lots of over time. You would get home anywhere from twelve to two in the morning and then fix yourself a snack before going to your room upstairs. I always left my bedroom door off of the kitchen, open so I could hear you come home. If you thought I might be awake, you would come to the door and say, Gramma I'm home. and Gramma, I'll always love you. Such good memories.

You mentioned very recently that sometimes memories is all we have Gramma.

I wondered why he should mention it in that way. So young with a whole life ahead of him. I worried about you eating enough healthy food but he would always say, I'm good Gramma, don't worry, I'm good. When you called as often as you did, I would ask you how your day at work had been. It was good Gramma. It's all good. Continued..

“ The last time we saw Cory was when he drove his grandma to his cousin's wedding in Minnesota. I think his dad would have been quite proud of him for stepping up to do that. We didn't know Cory well, but his easy smile and kind heart are what stand out to us. Love and prayers to the whole family in this time of pain and sorrow. Jeff, Cherilyn, Kathryn and Angela Boice

“ My prayers and condolence go out to each and everyone one of you that God will wipe away all tears and heal your hearts, give you comfort and peace at this time of your life. here's a little poem to help you heal and bring you peace..

" Remember Me "

*Remember me when you hear the wind blow.
I am with God, I need you to know.
He called my name, and I went to see
If the voice I heard was speaking to me.
He took my hand, we walked along
The road to heaven, where I belong.
The angles sang so sweet and clear.
They sang of love and that Jesus is near.
I felt his touch, I saw his face,
I knew in an instant I was in his grace.
He spoke to me, I heard him say,
You are home now child, you have found your way.
So remember me when you hear the wind blow.
I am home now with God, I need you to know.*

“ Connie and family - our deepest sympathies. Cory was a great guy. We enjoyed watching him grow up alongside Jay. It was always a pleasure to have him hanging out at our house. We have a lot of great memories watching him playing baseball, basketball, and football. He and I always had good intentions of getting together on the golf course, but our schedules always seemed to get in the way. How unfortunate. Occasionally we would bump into each other in Storm Lake. It was always a pleasure. We miss him already.
