Many, many years ago, the Meyer family farm home was damaged in a fire. Don and his brother, Russ, lived with us for several months until their home was repaired. Since I had no brothers, I came to appreciate the treasure of having a brother (in this case, two!) Over the years we spent a lot of time together, as cousins do. This being the 4th of July, I have fond memories of planning a "demolition derby" with Russ and Don. We accumulated a collection of used flashlight batteries, pipes, and fireworks to build a cannon. It was a "roaring" success. More importantly, we retained our vision, and our fingers! Don, I am blessed we journeyed together in this life. God holds you in his hands - we hold you in our hearts...
