“ When growing up, his childhood years were spent living across the street from us. He was always a good kids. He had nice (too loud) cars and was so kind to all his neighbors. As he got older he would come to our house on weekends and play cards and we all would just set around and visit. We loved him like we loved our own children. We even went to his wedding. You have now earned your wings so 'fly high' my friend and give big hugs to your parents, Ralph and Roma and Aunt Fern. You will be missed.
