“ Randy used to come out and Listen to our Live Music Band, He loved Live performing. The one thing I remember the most about Randy was the fact he called a "Spade a Spade," Randy did not hold back. He was probably the least "Politically Correct" on Air personality I have known, At times he made comments on obviously apparent situations that most ON Air Personnel would avoid. One I remember the most when KSCJ had an Author of a Self Published book, for a fee he was allowed to talk about, and pitch the book, on Open Line.

The Book that was discussed was, The Reason The Clintons Belong in Prison. It was written by A New York Jewish Republican... YES you read that correctly! His Name on the book and as advertised was Melrose Larry Green.

The Author made a statement about how difficult it was to sell a Self Published book, Randy had received a copy ahead of time, and had read it, But his reply was split second, and he said, "Especially if it isn't any good"! I laughed my ass off.... that was "MY Randy"... I have a few more good ones but need to say, I am going to miss you Randy.. And I thought Sam Clovis Stunk Open Line up.. He never had the charisma Randy had..

“ Prayers to the Renshaw family. Will always have good memories of Randy, gave me his old bicycle as I did not have one, took me kite flying, sat in the KAYL booth while Randy was on the air. Nice neighbors who lived just across the street, Jack, Helen & Randy in the old days.

“ I remember Randy because I started in radio at the same time Randy did at KAYL. We used to run the control board during the Cardinal Baseball games and on the rare instance that there was not a Saturday afternoon game, we got to play rock n roll records from 1-5pm. On those days we would split the shift with each of us taking a couple hours. We loved being on the radio. Back then he referred to himself as "the barefoot boy that lives in a barn".

He had more talent than I did because he stayed on the air, I ended up going into sales. Ironically, we both ended up in Sioux City for the majority of our careers.

Rest well old friend.....and remember the "Big 99".

“ Netti, Erin and Ben: We're deeply saddened to hear of Randy's death. We have fond and joyful memories our of years with you in Algona, especially Jeff's friendship with Ben. Donnley's friendship with Randy, at the time, was so important to Donnley, from conversations, to laughter, to rounds of golf, tossing a football, and so much more. Our bound with Netti was as deep, though different. Our hearts grieve with you and for you. May the comfort of God's presence and love surround and fill you, and all who grieve Randy's death. Goodbye, Randy! Love you! Donnley and Sandy Dutcher
