Stanley G. Rishoi, age 90, of Alta, Iowa passed away on August 7, 2025 at BVRMC in Storm Lake, Iowa. Stan was born in Milbank, South Dakota on December 4, 1934 to the union of Ada Donna Messner and Stanley Oliver Rishoi. Following the death of his mother, Stan was raised in Aurora and Brookings, South Dakota by his grandparents, Frank and Hattie Messner.

He attended Brookings High School and was active in music and track, where he held the record for the 440 yard dash for several decades and was part of the track team inducted into the South Dakota Track Hall of Fame.

After graduating from Brookings High School in 1952, Stan enrolled at South Dakota State University majoring in engineering. However, after forming several choirs and a traveling dance band, his advisor suggested he change his major to music.

After graduating from SDSU in 1956 with a major in Music Education, Stan joined the Army and served in the South Dakota National Guard until his honorable discharge.

Stan's first teaching job was in Henry, SD where he taught drafting, biology, shop, chorus, and band. He organized the purchase of band uniforms and recruited the entire high school student body (minus one) to participate in the marching band. During this same year he also directed the First United Methodist Church choir in Watertown, SD and was soon recruited to teach band and vocal music at Watertown High School in 1959. While there, he directed several fully staged high school musicals and also started the Watertown Community Chorus whose polished performances of classic repertoire became the pride of the region. Toward the beginning of his 17-year tenure at WHS, Stan met Sharon Parker, who was hired to teach band, thus allowing Stan to concentrate more fully on choral music. They were married in 1965 and with this union their daughter, Stacey was born.

In 1974, with Stan as the driving force, he, along with five other SD choral conductors, created the South Dakota All-State Honor Choir, a group of 150 of the best high school non-senior vocalists in the state. To make the auditions equitable, it was arranged that each of the four voice types audition for the same judge. To facilitate this, Stan (who was a private pilot and flight instructor) flew the judges to the various audition sites across the state. Those selected were to meet for an intensive week of rehearsals during the summer, perform a concert and return to their respective high schools to be music leaders, In August of 2024, the SD Honor choir founders were honored as the Choir celebrated it's iconic 50th year. Extra meaningful to this concert was the inclusion of an Alumni choir whose members were varied in age, geography, and vocation. To this day, they continue to draw on their Honor Choir experience.

Stan was a President of the SD Chapter of the American Choral Directors Association and chair for the SD Music Activities Association. He was highly sought after as guest conductor, clinician, and adjudicator. Stan served five times as local Chair for the South Dakota All-State Chorus and Orchestra and was chosen to be guest conductor in 1975.

That same year, Stan earned a Master of Music in Vocal Performance from the University of South Dakota. The following summer, he joined the staff at the University of Exeter in England, where he conducted the American Youth Choral. In the Fall of 1976, Stan was named Assistant Professor at Yankton College Conservatory of Music. While there, he served as department head as well as President of the International Education Institute which involved the seeking out of outstanding musicians to study and perform in various parts of the U.S., England, and Europe.

After the close of Yankton College, Stan accepted a position as Professor of Music at Buena Vista University in the Fall of 1986, where he remained until his retirement in 1999.

In 1991, in celebration of both BVU's 100th anniversary and the 200th anniversary of Mozart's death, Stan took the BVU choir to New York City to perform Mozart's Requiem with full orchestra at the world-renowned Carnegie Hall.

When Stan retired from BVU, he opened SGR Photo and Camera Repair, taking professional headshots, family photos, and graduation and wedding photos.. At this time, he also served as music director at Lakeside Presbyterian Church in Storm Lake and was the music director for several Buena Vista Community Theatre productions.

Whether building an observatory in the horse pasture, working in his woodshop, taking painting lessons or teaching his nephew to weld, Stan was a life-long learner, teacher, organizer, and supporter of other people's passions.

Stan was an animal lover and had a special place in his heart for dogs. Over the years, he and his wife have had 16 dogs as the locals knew that he would adopt any dog that reminded him of the dalmatian who accompanied him as a little boy with his fishing pole on the way to the pond.

Stan Rishoi is survived by his wife of 37 years, Dr. Lisa Lindeman; daughter: Stacey Erinn (Gustav Andreassen) Rishoi; grandson: Owen Lucas Rishoi Andreassen; half-brother: Tom (Nellie) Rishoi; Stan & Lisa's special friend: Keith Madsen; and wonderful relatives and friends.

“ Doug Grow: In 1965 I was a senior in high school in Watertown, SD. I was a mediocre tenor in a choir directed by Mr. Rishoi, a man a lot flashier than most of the teachers in my school. Mr. Rishoi taught us music that I often found bizarre as a 17-year-old boy. But over the decades I have come to appreciate this incredible man more and more. The music he was teaching us was a study of the classics. One was a song based on a poem by Robert Frost, "Oh Star, the fairest one in sight. . . ." To this day, I can not look up at star-filled without thinking of that song and the incredible teacher who opened my eyes and mind to so much.

“ Stan came to Yankton College like a whirlwind, and brought us possibilities - going to Europe on a choir tour, auditioning for the Metropolitan Opera, flying to music competitions. Some of the most remarkable memories of my life, and those of some of my classmates, were because of Stan. He touched generations of students, and he will be missed. My heartfelt sympathies to all his loved ones.

“ Stan Rishoi certainly played a role in our Timmerman family. Leonard and Ardell were close Watertown colleagues, and Mr. Rishoi certainly played an educational and musical role in Bill's, Judy's and Gary's appreciation of our vocal abilities. From Junior High School band to Senior High School A Capella, All-State and Honors Choir. So many memories. Thank you, Stan.

“ I was in choir for four years at BV with Stan. He was simply put: the best! So amazing. He brought us to Carnegie Hall to sing Mozart's Requiem. Without a doubt, it was one of the best experiences of my life.

“ I am writing a few memories of you, Stan. I remember you came to some of the family dinners on Christmas Eve at Jim Rishoi's house in Brookings, South Dakota. I remember going to a dance at the Ballroom at Lake Poinsett when your orchestra was playing and maybe one dance at the Arkota Ballroom in Sioux Falls. I also remember you coming to visit Jan, Greg and I several times in Omaha and you always got lost and you would call but you still took a couple hours before you arrived. I remember the time you took Jan and I for a ride in your Mooney airplane, checking out the Sioux Falls sky line. Thanks for all the great memories. Rest in peace Stan. Your cousin, Bob Rishoi

“ Heartfelt condolences to family and friends of Stan. He will always be 'Mr. Rishoi' to me. I will be forever grateful to him for pushing me to try out for all choirs, as I likely wouldn't have without his steady encouragement. I recall saying, "I can't sing." At the registration table of the Honors Allstate choir in Spearfish, he looked up at me and said..."Cindy, what are you doing here...you can't sing." And then flashed that smile at me. Capella, All-State, Honors Allstate and 20 years singing with the South Dakota Symphony Choir...would have never enjoyed all of that without his influence! He was my Mr. Holland's Opus Teacher! I know he touched many, many lives in the same way. Watertown was lucky to have him. Hands down, most influential teacher!! Thank you Mr. Rishoi! You will be missed.

“ I have to smile when I think about Stan. He started his job at Yankton College when I was a sophomore there. He brought so much energy and passion to the choral director position and worked to build the program. I have great memories of traveling to Europe one summer and also flying to opera auditions in a small plane in the middle of a South Dakota winter! Nothing stopped him. My condolences go out to his family. Valerie Gramberg Middleton

“ 49 years ago, I began my college career at Yankton College, Conservatory of music ... It was Stan’s first year at the college and he was my voice teacher vocal coach. He was always so very patient with me and so inspiring as a choral director. I cherish the memories I have of YC. I feel so grateful that I got to see him briefly last summer at an event in Sioux Falls. Rest in peace and thank you. Prayers of comfort for his family.
